

Contact: Megan Rutherford
Tel: (805) 706-0459
Email: megan.rutherford@visualpurple.com

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Visual Purple Named as 2009 Military Training Technology Top Training and Simulation Company

San Luis Obispo, CA –September 25, 2009- The results are in and Visual Purple has been recognized as one of the top performers in the global simulation and training industry for the second consecutive year.

Military Training Technology is proud to announce the 2009 MT2 Top Training and Simulation Companies. The list's companies are from around the world that have made a significant impact on the military training industry across the spectrum of technologies—serious gaming, live training, constructive simulation, modeling, virtual simulation and others. An impartial panel selected the winners from a very competitive group. Companies were selected based on various criteria, which in part, included total military sales, innovation, and program effectiveness. The 2009 submissions were especially competitive.

About Visual Purple

Visual Purple is an industry leader in advanced simulations and technologies throughout the Virtual World, Embedded and Decision-Based training sectors. The Company's core technologies allow for the rapid development of training objectives within its simulations through a collection of 3D elements, videos, and other high-fidelity content. Visual Purple training solutions allow for the most complex training missions in a manner that is cost and time efficient for the organization and enjoyable and effective for the trainee. Training packages are designed to accelerate the ability of corporate and government employees to master complicated material and increase performance in making appropriate work-related decisions. Visual Purple, LLC is certified on the Central Contractor Registration database as a Women-Owned Small Business.

###